SLAVS CHANGING FRONT
Urges an Agreement With Late
Tsar—One Writer Points to America's Weakness.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun.
St. Petersburg, Aug. 14.—For the moment Russia's attention is quite absorbed by Far Eastern affairs. Turkey no doubt also interests the Czar's Ministers, but before they can play an active part in southeastern Europe they must first feel quite secure in China and Manchuria. At present events there are moving rapidly. Owing to the Mikado's death Prince Katsura, who has been in power since the death of the late Emperor, is expected to resign. He is a man of great ability and has been a strong supporter of the two ex-adversaries who act together in the Far East. Outside desirous of exerting political influence there, or influence which can be said to have a political aspect, must apply to the two self-constituted guardians of the Pacific. No neutralization schemes such as Mr. Knox's Manchurian railway project will stand any chance. They are eliminated already. The Far East is earmarked. These hardly perceptible changes in the international situation are of momentous interest to the people of the United States, and during the last few weeks the American Embassy here has been working at high pressure recording them. Long ciphered telegrams are frequently despatched to Washington or received from that city in St. Petersburg. And no wonder. For the policy at present decided upon by Russia and Japan leads straight to the partition of Manchuria and outer Mongolia, and to the overlordship of those two empires in China proper.

Fencing Off the Far East.
They are not bent upon effecting these changes to-morrow. They are quite willing to wait. But they are determined to lose no time in fencing off the Far East, as it were, so that come what may, no upheaval there may upset their plans, while certain changes will serve to accelerate their realization. Neither is there any question of closing the open door. The matter has never been mooted yet. But if there be people who imagine that when Manchuria and Mongolia have been incorporated in Russia and Japan respectively, the door will still be kept open for commercial rivals from Europe and the United States, they are people of robust faith. Sancta simplicitas! The direct and inevitable consequence of the present policy of Japan and Russia is the closing of the open door. That is absolutely certain. And the argument in favor of this drastic measure will then be unanswerable diplomatically, for no one can deny that Russia and Japan possess an indefeasible right to close their own doors to outsiders if their interest call for such a precaution. But at present one can challenge their right to expropriate Manchuria and Mongolia from China. Consequently those Powers who would then protest in vain should now bestir themselves to render inoperative the cause which will bring about this disastrous effect.

Discussing the Spill.
The Russian press in full of vehement articles discussing these matters. And almost all the papers favor expropriation. Opinion differs only as to the time, the manner and the sharer in the spill. Take, for instance, the organ of the party now in power, the Zemskaya. This journal holds that Russia will be "robbed" by circumstances to annex Manchuria. One of these circumstances is the Russian Empire. This can be effected at once by means of an arrangement with Japan. But it can also be brought about in another way. After the expropriation of South Manchuria by Japan it can be accomplished as compensation for the expansion of the Mikado's dominion on the Continent.

Urges Understanding With Japan.
The Utro Rossii, a widely circulated journal, preaches the necessity for an understanding on the subject with the Government of Tokio. In its issue of July 26 it said:

Our interests would not be jeopardized by the least by such a delimitation of the spheres of influence (an expression which is usually employed to disguise the profitable annexation). On the contrary, it clearly defines our reciprocal relations in advance and ward off the danger of having Manchuria as an apple of discord.

AMERICANS REPULSE REBELS.

Sailors' Fire Too Hot for Nicaragua Insurgents.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Aug. 14.—American sailors on guard at United States Legation and the Presidential palace aided in repulsing a determined attack by the rebels under Generals Mena and Zeledon early this morning. The insurgents forced their way almost to the houses of the city before they were beaten back.

The sailors who, because of their marksmanship, had been specially selected from the American detachment stationed here to protect the lives and property of American citizens, directed a fire too hot for the attackers and the rebels were driven back. The bombardment of the city by field guns was continued all night. Three shells missed striking the American Legation by the narrow margin of thirty yards.

American and foreigners are safe. SAN JUAN DEL SUR, Nicaragua, Aug. 14.—President Diaz peremptorily refused to-day to consider restoring Gen. Mena to the position of War Minister, for dismissal from which he is trying to overthrow the Diaz government. It is the only condition upon which Mena will cease hostilities.

Many were killed, it was learned to-day, in the rebel bombardment of Managua, including a number of women and children. News of further fighting is expected hourly. WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Several women and children have been killed in the fighting at Managua, Nicaragua, as a result of the bombardment of the capital by the rebel forces. The Government has gained some recent advantage and the bombardment has been discontinued for the present.

The rebels have retreated to a safe distance and it is thought they are preparing to renew their attack. This information was conveyed to the Navy Department to-day by Commander Anna Torhune, commanding the gunboat Amphipolis at Corinto. Commander Torhune added that telegraphic communication between Managua and Corinto, which was cut off by the rebels, has been restored.

Mr. Weitzel, the American Minister, was directed to-day to make an investigation to determine whether the orders of the United States Government restricting the zone of hostilities have been disregarded.

REBELS MENACE U. S. TROOPS.

Thousand Mexicans Gather on Border Opposite Columbus.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 14.—Eleven or twelve hundred rebels have gathered in the last forty-eight hours at Palomas, the Mexican settlement opposite Columbus, N. M., where early Monday morning United States and rebel troops, the latter smuggling ammunition, had an exchange of shots in which one man was wounded on each side.

Shots have been exchanged since that time and Major Sedgewick Rice, Third United States Cavalry, commanding the United States troops there, has asked for more soldiers, fearing a rebel attempt to cross the line and attack his men. Gen. E. Z. Steever, commanding the Department of Texas and in charge of the border patrol, sent thirty cavalrymen last night, but did not send any more to-day, not believing that there is any danger.

Gen. Orozco, the rebel chief, is a puzzle to American military authorities and others. In Juarez he remains as calm and contented from all outward appearances as if he were the ruler of Mexico, with only about seven hundred troops with him and the Federalists closing in on him. A report is current that a surrender is about to occur.

The Federalists have worked their way northward to San Pedro, only fifteen miles south of Juarez, but that they will gobble up Orozco and the little bodyguard which now garrisons that town does not seem to worry the rebel chief.

Col. Alanis is at Guzman, between San Pedro and Juarez, with enough rebels to put a stop to any further advance northward by the Federal forces, the rebel leaders say.

OUT OF TOMBS TOWER ON ROPE.

Pulled Back Through Hole by His Boss, Who Is a Timidist.

A group of persons standing at Franklin and Lafayette streets shortly before 5 o'clock last evening noticed that the bars had been removed from a window in a tower well up in the centre of the jumble of buildings known as the Tombs.

Suddenly there appeared at the window a young man in shirt sleeves. He looked out, ducked back and then threw out of the window and came down the rope hand over hand. A big fellow appeared at the window, took one look down and began to tug at the rope.

Gradually the young man's body went up. He was at the end of the rope and wouldn't have dared to drop. He kicked his feet against the side of the tower, but the husky person kept on pulling and soon grabbed the young man by the arm, then by the seat of his trousers, and hauled him up to the window.

DROWNED SAVING FIANCEE.

Acting Mayor of Lanigan Was to Have Wed Yesterday.

ODENSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 14.—News just reached here telling that Acting Mayor R. L. Hood of Lanigan was drowned in Watrous Lake yesterday, while saving the life of his fiancée, Miss MacFarlane, to whom he was to have been married to-day. They had motored over to Watrous Lake from Lanigan to spend the day.

BOY NAMED JOHN JACOB BORN TO ASTOR'S WIDOW

Lusty Youngster Sixth to Bear Name of Founder of Big Fortune.

MOTHER'S CONDITION GOOD

Baby Who Came Into World at 8:15 A. M. Yesterday Has $3,000,000.

A son was born yesterday morning to Mrs. John Jacob Astor at 815 Fifth avenue. The child weighs seven and three-quarter pounds and seems to be a lusty youngster.

It was said yesterday that Mrs. Astor was recovering as well as could be expected. The baby has been named John Jacob Astor for his father, who lost his life on the Titanic on April 14. Dr. Edwin B. Crain, who has been in constant attendance on Mrs. Astor for the last ten days, gave out the following bulletin at 9 o'clock yesterday morning:

"Mrs. Astor has a son, born at 8:15 A. M. His name is John Jacob Astor. Mother and son are in good condition."

By the provisions of Col. John Jacob Astor's will his posthumous son, who is the sixth to bear the name, inherits $3,000,000, which is to be kept in trust for him until he attains his majority. In the event of his death without leaving a will the inheritance reverts to the Astor estate, of which William Vincent Astor, Col. Astor's son by his first wife, is the residuary legatee.

There has been a rumor that in the event of the birth of a son Mrs. Astor would contest the will and attempt to obtain a third share of the $100,000,000 estate for him. When Mrs. Astor's father, William H. Force, was asked at his home, 18 East Thirty-seventh street, whether or not any such action would be taken, he replied, "No," and refused to discuss the question any further. Col. John Jacob Astor's will, which he modified after his second marriage to provide for further issue, was admitted to probate in May. The beneficiaries, William Vincent Astor, Muriel Astor and Mrs. Madeleine Talmage Force Astor, were all minors at the time, and guardians were appointed for them.

William Vincent Astor, who will be of age on November 15, was residuary legatee. His sister, Muriel Astor, received a trust fund of $5,000,000, and Col. Astor's bride received the income from $5,000,000 for life, at the end of which time the principal is to revert to the estate. In addition to this separate fund of $3,000,000 each were provided for any children who should survive Col. Astor other than those already mentioned in the will.

It was said at the time that Col. Astor married Miss Force that she received $100,000 outright in lieu of her dower rights. In addition the young widow has the use of the Fifth avenue home free of taxes as long as she remains single. Should she marry again she would forfeit her right to live in the house and the income from the $5,000,000 would cease for her.

Col. John Jacob Astor was the great-grandson of the original John Jacob Astor, who was born at Waldorf, Germany, in 1764. Col. Astor was born in 1864 and was married Miss Ava Louise Willing of Philadelphia in 1890. They had two children, William Vincent Astor and Ava Alice Muriel Astor. Mrs. Ava Willing Astor got a divorce in 1909, and in the summer of 1911 it was announced that Col. Astor was engaged to Miss Madeleine Talmage Force. Miss Force was then 19 years old and there was much talk of the engagement among society folk because the young woman was not well known in the circles in which Col. Astor moved.

Several clergymen protested against the proposed marriage, because Col. Astor had been divorced. Some ministers refused to perform the ceremony. The couple finally were married on September 9, 1911, at Beechwood, the Astor home at Newport. Col. Astor took his bride abroad for an extensive tour of Europe and they were returning to this country on the Titanic when the giant liner struck an iceberg and sank early on the morning of April 15. Col. Astor helped his wife into a lifeboat and kissed her good-by. She was one of the survivors picked up by the Carpathia.

Although it has been several times denied that there would be any contest of the provisions of the Astor will, when the document was offered for probate three months ago former Justice Henry A. Gildersleeve, Mrs. Astor's attorney, filed a memorandum in which he said that the admitting of the will to probate was in no way to be considered as an indication that the will was not to be contested.

When John Jacob Astor came to America from the village of Waldorf he was a poor man. He started in business on a very small scale as a fur trader on Manhattan Island, exchanging trinkets for the pelts which the Indians brought to the settlement. The business prospered and the proceeds were invested in real estate. In 1848 his fortune was a fabulous one for that time. It has now increased to what is thought may be $400,000,000. The greater part of this fortune belongs to William Waldorf Astor, a cousin of Col. John Jacob Astor, who lives in London and who has become an English citizen.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 14.—News that a son had been born to Mrs. John Jacob Astor was received here early to-day. The report spread quickly and when people began to assemble at the Casino it was the general topic of conversation. There were many expressions of pleasure and good will.

Two survivors of the Titanic disaster now here, Mrs. George D. Widener of Philadelphia and Mrs. J. D. Brown of Denver, sent congratulatory telegrams to Mrs. Astor as soon as they heard the news.

During the hot season, judicious use of Anesthine bottles prevents summer complaints.

ACTRESS SOUGHT IN SHOOTING.

May State Gas Company Manager Target of Married Woman.

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—The police, acting on the request of Commissioner of Public Safety Bartlett, of Haverhill, this afternoon began a hunt for Miss Margaret Love of this city, known on the stage as Margaret Trever, to see if she can throw any light on the attempted shooting yesterday of Thomas Nickerson, the Harvard graduate and head of the Haverhill Gas Light Company.

It was Miss Love who recently sued Nickerson for $20,000, alleging breach of promise to marry. The police claimed that when Miss Love learned of the engagement of Nickerson to Phyllis Sherwood of the "Alias Jimmy Valentine" company the former chorus girl went to Haverhill to attempt to effect a reconciliation with the manager of the gas company in that city.

Miss Phyllis Sherwood at the Hotel Richmond last night at first denied any knowledge of the shooting of her dance. Later she said: "I did receive a wire from Mr. Nickerson an hour ago. He warned me that the newspaper accounts would be terribly exaggerated and that he was not seriously hurt. That is all I know of the affair. I do not know who shot him. I am all at sea. Now this is all I have to say."

DELAWARE OUR BEST SHIP.

Heads Navy List in General Battle Efficiency.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The battle-ship Delaware stands at the head of all the big ships of the navy in general battle efficiency for the fiscal year 1911 and 1912, which ended June 30 last. Not only did she make a standing head above any other vessel but she completely outclassed her sister ships, the North Dakota, Florida and Utah.

The Delaware made a final merit of 74.758 on a scale of combined gunnery and steaming efficiency, making her the all-around crack ship of the American navy. Naval authorities who watch such work in foreign navies express the belief that the stands out well above any other ship in the world. It remained for one of the older ships, an armored cruiser, to make second place. This was the Colorado, Capt. W. A. Gill commanding, at 68.301.

The best work for the year in the destroyer class was made by the Preston at 81.990, Lieut. R. F. Leary commanding.

McCOMBS OUT OF IT A WHILE.

Not Ill, but His Complaint Is "Aggravating"—Must Rest.

William G. McCombs, vice-chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is directing the affairs of the Wilson campaign in the absence of Chairman William F. McCombs. Mr. McCombs said yesterday that while there was nothing to be alarmed over with regard to Mr. McCombs' illness, yet the complaint from which he was suffering was an "aggravating" one, and that it might be a week or two before he would be able to return to active charge of the campaign.

Thomas J. Pence, assistant to the chairman, said Mr. McCombs was not ill. "He has been working too many hours and needs rest," he said. "With a few days rest he says he expects to be back at his desk. His physician, Dr. John D. McFarland, advises he will not give attention to any campaign matters."

DARROW BEGINS DEFENCE.

Says He Is Prosecuted Because He Is Defender of Poor.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 14.—Clarence Darrow began his plea in his own behalf this afternoon and in defending himself against the charge of bribery, assailed the District Attorney and his associates. The crush to hear Darrow was so great that several women fainted and had to be carried out. Darrow charges that he is being prosecuted because he is a defender of the poor and weak. The case probably will go to the jury Friday night. Darrow will continue his defence to-morrow.

JUSTIN MCCARTHY A POOR MAN.

Late Novelist Left Estate of Only $2,500.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun.
LONDON, Aug. 14.—Justin McCarthy, the novelist and historian, who died intestate last April, left an estate of $2,500 gross, of which $987 net was personal property.

WOMAN FACTORY HEAD IN TOMBS

Rosa Zindel, President of Manufacturing Co., Held as Forger.

Miss Rosa Zindel, once a $12,000 a year factory manager, then president of the concern where she was once an employee, and now a bankrupt, was arrested yesterday afternoon and put in the Tombs prison on a charge of forgery. Her arrest followed an indictment in which it is alleged that Miss Zindel forged the name of E. R. Quinn, Philadelphia manufacturer, to a note for $5,795.38 and borrowed money on the note from the Century Bank.

Miss Zindel, the head of the Zindel Manufacturing Company, shell goods makers of 373 Fourth avenue, was arrested in her rooms at the Schermerhorn apartments, Madison avenue and Eighty-second street.

Despite Miss Zindel's appeal that she was ill the arrest was made, but her physician was called in before the woman was taken away. It was too late to get bail when she reached the prison.

On August 7 last, petitions in bankruptcy were filed against the Zindel Manufacturing Company and against Miss Zindel by creditors who alleged that she had obtained loans from banks and individuals on notes to the extent of $60,000, part of which she must have known were bad. She was to have appeared before United States Commissioner Gilchrist in bankruptcy proceedings Tuesday, but sent a certificate from her doctor saying that she was too ill to come.

Yesterday the case was up again and she was still too much incapacitated, her physician certified, to appear. A judgment by default was taken yesterday.

U. S. OFFICIAL KILLED IN COLOMBIA FEUD?

State Department Orders Investigation of Vice-Consul's Death.

NATIVE COURTS HOSTILE

Tried Repeatedly to Imprison W. B. McMaster After Attack by Ruffians.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—James T. Du Bois, American Minister to Colombia, was directed by Secretary of State Knox to-day to make a prompt and thorough investigation into the mysterious death on last Sunday of William B. McMaster, Vice and Deputy Consul at Cartagena.

McMaster was attacked and badly wounded by a crowd of ruffians two years ago and in defending himself he killed one of them. The Colombian courts were determined that McMaster should serve a term in prison and his liberty was effected only as a result of a prolonged correspondence between the State Department and the Colombian Foreign Office. He finally was liberated and returned to his duties, although he expressed the fear that he would be attacked again.

McMaster, so far as the Washington authorities know, has had no encounters since that time. The officials were accordingly startled to-day by receipt of a telegram from Graham H. Kemper, Consul at Cartagena, stating that McMaster was killed while out hunting last Sunday. The Consul did not give any details and there was nothing to show whether his death was accidental or not.

Consul Kemper was called upon immediately for particulars and a message was rushed to Minister Du Bois directing an immediate investigation.

Shortly following the receipt of Consul Kemper's message came one from Mr. Du Bois also announcing the Vice-Consul's death. Mr. Du Bois stated that he was killed by a gunshot wound while hunting about ten miles from Cartagena. He said that the body was found on Monday and that the local authorities are conducting a careful investigation in order to ascertain the details if possible. According to the State Department's report, Mr. Du Bois did not venture an opinion as to the cause of the accident.

Following receipt of this message the Department sent a supplementary cablegram to both Mr. Du Bois and Consul Kemper directing that every possible step be taken at once to determine the exact cause of the accident. McMaster's body will be held at Cartagena pending the outcome of the investigation. Just what steps will be taken if the evidence indicates murder State Department officials decline to state. It is certain, however, that immediate demands will be made upon the Colombian Government.

Suspicion of the Washington authorities was aroused at once because of the attack upon McMaster two years ago and the apparent determination of the authorities to punish him for fighting off his assailants. A complete investigation was made by the American Minister at that time.

The trouble in which he figured two years ago occurred while he was going home through a lonely part of the city late at night. He was attacked by two or three Colombians. They used weapons and in defending himself he killed one of the party. Next day, when he left the consulate, he was arrested by the police authorities on the charge of murder.

He was acquitted by a lower court, but the Government had the case appealed to a higher court. In this he was convicted and sentenced to serve several years in prison. The State Department intervened and it required some time to secure a new trial, at which McMaster was acquitted on the grounds of justifiable homicide. He continued at his post, but since then there have been a number of threats against him. Recently, however, it was thought that the incident had been forgotten by the friends of the man he killed and his companions.

McMaster was born in Colombia of American parents in 1875. He was educated in the public schools of Colombia and the United States and became a ranch owner in Colombia. He served as messenger in the Cartagena consulate from 1905 to 1909, when he went on to his ranch. He was appointed Vice-Consul at Cartagena in 1904 and in 1908 was promoted to Vice and Deputy Consul. His income had been less than $2,000 and it is understood that he had continued his interest in ranching. He is accredited to New York in the consular service, but had lived in that State very little, practically all his life having been spent in Colombia.

CORSICAN MAKING SLOW TIME.

Liner That Rammed Iceberg Proceeds Toward Liverpool.

MONTREAL, Aug. 14.—The Allan liner Corsican, which rammed an iceberg off the coast of Newfoundland last Monday afternoon and damaged her bow above the waterline, proceeded on her way to Liverpool at 10 o'clock this morning, according to advices received by wire from the line's offices here to-day from Capt. Cook of the injured liner.

The liner Lake Champlain, which stood by the wounded Corsican, is following along, in constant wireless communication, and will stand in readiness to transfer the Corsican's 500 passengers should the emergency arise. While no position is given for the Corsican by which it might be estimated how far on her way east she has proceeded from latitude 52° 24' north, longitude 52° 15' west, in which position she struck the iceberg, she was making about ten knots an hour after steaming on her way this morning. In five and a half hours she steamed 50 knots.

It is now admitted at the line's offices here that the injuries to the damaged vessel are more severe than was originally admitted. The Liverpool offices of the company have sent cable messages saying that when the Corsican reaches Liverpool she will be fitted with a new stem.

The Corsican probably will reach Liverpool in from ten to fourteen days. The Liverpool office cables that there will be no delay in the sailing schedule, by which it is inferred here that they have been supplied with a detailed statement of the liner's injuries.

PROGRESSIVES CARRY ALASKA.

Delegate Wickersham's Re-election New Party's First Victory.

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 14.—James Wickersham, Progressive and supporter of Roosevelt, was yesterday reelected delegate to Congress from Alaska by a plurality estimated at 1,200.

He carried the large mining precincts, with Kazis Krauchunas, a socialist, second. The vote of Fairbanks, the largest city in Alaska, was: Wickersham, 318; Krauchunas, 127; Gilmore, Republican, 100; Jennings, Democrat, 80.

Two years ago Wickersham received 2,000 plurality. This is the first decisive victory for the Progressive party.

IS HEARST WITH ROOSEVELT?

Georgia Folk Think the Colonel Has Won Him and Watson.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 14.—A reported combination of W. R. Hearst and Thomas E. Watson to support the Roosevelt ticket in Georgia created interest to-day. W. J. Tilson, State chairman of the Progressive party, admitted there was foundation for the rumor, but beyond that refused to be quoted. The Hearst paper here, the Atlanta Georgian, is allowing its special writers to attack Woodrow Wilson.

Tom Watson is lauding Roosevelt in his publications and attacking Wilson. Watson was chosen a delegate to the Baltimore convention, but did not attend. State Chairman Tilson said the Progressive party will put out a State ticket.

MISSIONARIES LOSE APPEAL.

Japanese Supreme Court in Corea Orders Trial Resumed.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun.
SEOUL, Corea, Aug. 14.—In the trial of more than a hundred Christians who are charged with conspiracy against the life of Governor-General Terauchi the Judges brought charges against numerous missionaries, refusing, however, to allow the latter to call witnesses or take any other means of clearing themselves.

Counsel for the defence then impeached the Judges and demanded a new trial, maintaining that the present trial was merely a farce.

The Supreme Court to-day refused the application of the defence and the trial will be resumed August 23.

HIGHER ODDS AGAINST T. R.

Wall Street Shows a Jump of From 3 to 1 to 4 to 1.

Betting odds in Wall Street yesterday were 4 to 1 against Col. Roosevelt for the Presidency. The highest previous odds against him were 3 to 1. Figures of even money were quoted that President Taft would get more electoral votes than Roosevelt.

Odds of 7 to 10 were asked that the Colonel would receive the greater popular vote. The odds on this same proposition a few days ago were 4 to 5. A Wall Street man said he had $1,000 at even money that Roosevelt would carry fifteen States.

FRIEL ALLEN SENTENCED.

Gets 18 Years Under Agreement Made With Boy's Father.

WYTHEVILLE, Va., Aug. 14.—After three hours consideration the Commonwealth and the counsel for the defence in the case of Friel Allen, charged with the murder of Commonwealth's Attorney Foster at Hillsville on March 14 last, reached an agreement this afternoon whereby Judge Staples sentenced young Allen to eighteen years in the State prison.

Jack Allen, father of Friel, surrendered his son to the detectives under an agreement that he would be pardoned after five years in prison, and to-day's compromise grew out of that agreement.

MRS. ANSON'S VILLA ROBBED.

Bar Harbor Raffles Gets $10,000 Jewels and Silverware.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 14.—A second successful haul was made some time on Tuesday night by Bar Harbor's Raffles. The burglar entered The Turrets, the summer home of Mrs. Alfred Anson, wife of the youngest son of the Earl of Litchfield, who was formerly Mrs. John J. Emory of New York, while she was out at dinner. The loss at first was supposed to be small, but it was discovered to-night that jewelry amounting to more than $10,000 was taken, including a number of pins and brooches.

Thus far there seems to be absolutely no clue, although representatives of one of the best known detective agencies in the country are at work on the case.

SHAVE AND HAIRCUT, $1.25.

Philadelphia Man Then Causes Arrest of Barber.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14.—Franklin B. Forrest of Lansdowne was the complainant to-day against J. J. Townsend, proprietor of one of the largest barber shops here, on the ground that he had been charged $1.25 for a plain everyday haircut and shave without the usual frills.

When he could not pay the $1.25, he says, the barber made him leave a $65 gold watch and a silver match safe. Forrest reported the occurrence to the police and swore out a warrant for the barber's arrest on the charge of larceny.

The Magistrate held Townsend in $500 bail for a further hearing next week.

ACTOR'S AUTO KILLS CHILD.

Alexander Carr Was Driving Machine—Was Not Arrested.

An automobile owned and driven by Alexander Carr, the comedian, ran over and killed Frieda Glauberman, 4 years old, of 237 Fifth street, at Second avenue and Fifth street at 11:30 last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Carr and two friends were in the machine. The child ran in front of the automobile, which is said to have been going slowly. Mr. Carr was not arrested.
